

Overview	This course covers types of respirators and when to use them, including the capabilities and limitations of respirators, the medical requirements for using respirators, how to fit-test and leak-test respirators, the care and maintenance of respirators, and the typical contents of a written respiratory protection program.
Learning Outcome	After taking this course, you will be aware of <ul style="list-style-type: none">? Types of respirators and when to use them.? Capabilities and limitations of respirators.? Medical requirements for using respirators.? How to fit test and leak test respirators.? Care and maintenance of respirators
Topics	Types of Respirators Exposure Assessment Respirator Selection Medical Requirements Fit Testing Leak Testing Respirator Care and Maintenance Emergencies Written Program
Target Audience	Primary Readers: Respirator users Secondary Readers: Supervisors, ESH personnel
Prerequisites	No prerequisites are assigned to this course.
System Requirements	Any workstation that has a web browser with a Flash Plug-In and supports HTML 3.2 or above, such as Netscape Navigator 4.7 or higher (6.0 preferred) or Microsoft Internet Explorer 4.0 or higher (5.5 preferred), and a 33.6 Kbps or higher connection to the Internet. You will need to have Java enabled in your browser. The minimum supported screen resolution is 640x480, 256 colors. A resolution of 800x600 is recommended.
Assessment	Quiz on completion of the module.